

Course Description – Curriculum 2018

Subject: AC331 Accounting for Environmental and Social Responsibility

Credits: 3

Prerequisite: AC202 or AC203

Description: Sustainable development concepts, corporate environmental and social responsibility; negative impacts of business activities on the environment and natural resources; environmental management process; identification, collection, and analysis of environment-related costs and earnings information; environmental reporting, and sustainability reporting.